

AGC NYS Programs and Services

Why a Specialty Contractor Should Join AGC NYS:

Field Services

AGC staffers are always hitting the road visiting members and prospects. Our staff can always be reached to discuss hot industry topics.

Publications

To keep members up-to-date on important issues, AGC NYS publishes a bi-weekly newsletter and a quarterly magazine, as well as an annual membership directory. Bulletins and alerts are used to disseminate time sensitive information and our website is updated frequently so you can access this information anywhere.

Scholarship Programs

Scholarships are given on the State and National level to deserving students pursuing undergraduate degrees in construction-related fields who show a true interest in pursuing a career in the construction industry. We also offer two scholarships in the field of diesel technology.

As the strongest and most widely respected construction association in New York State, the AGC NYS represents the interests of all construction contractors and specialty contractors. The programs and services provided by AGC are as valuable to Specialty Contractors as they are to General Contractors.

AGC NYS Education & Training

Continuing the education of your staff is a prime focus of contractors in the fast-moving, ever changing field of construction. Trained staff is critical to the advancement of your firm. AGC NYS, in cooperation with the AGC of America and a variety of related industry groups, developed a number of programs to educate and train today's AGC workforce.

AGC Project Manager Program

Provides the essential skills of project management through five separate courses on Leadership, Estimating and Job Costing, Contract Administration, Risk Management & Project Administration. Each highly interactive, 16-hour course is held over two days providing participants with the necessary knowledge and skills to enhance their ability to work successfully with others to ensure project success.

Future Construction Leaders Program

Involves mid-career professionals who have been chosen by their companies as future leaders in the industry. The students meet four times during the year to learn from industry experts on topics that normally would take attendees years of on-the-job training.

AGC NYS Programs and Services

Networking, Governance & Committees

AGC NYS is committed to improving the construction industry through its programs and services, and is led by a Board of Directors that provides guidance and direction towards the association's goals and objectives. Membership meetings are held regularly across the State that offer valuable networking opportunities with more than 250 of our General Contractor Members. AGC guides a host of committees made up of members focusing on industry issues.

Funding Efforts

AGC NYS is in constant contact with the State Legislature, the Governor and our Congressional Delegation; advocating for increased investment in our state infrastructure.

Government and Legislative Relations

AGC NYS is the leading public policy organization in the construction industry and serves as a valuable resource of information and advocacy to elected officials. Our unique integration of public policy, political action, media, grassroots advocacy and strategic partnerships is a powerful tool in advancing the interests of the construction industry. As a member of AGC NYS, you will have access to an integrated and effective public policy advocacy team of seasoned lobbyists and political professionals.

Safety

Recognizing that a safe workplace is a productive workplace, AGC NYS has developed safety services to educate members and their employees on safe work practices and field conditions in order to assist members with OSHA concerns.

Meetings

Key meetings include: The AGC NYS Construction Industry Conference is a 3-day event held in December, a Summer membership meeting held in Upstate NY, an Annual Winter meeting normally held in the Caribbean and various regional meetings.

AGC of America

Membership in AGC NYS grants you membership in AGC of America, the leading national construction trade association representing all facets of construction for both public and private entities. AGCA represents over 32,000 leading firms in the industry. For more information, visit www.agc.org.
