

AGC NYS

The Associated General Contractors of New York State (AGC NYS) is the leading voice of the building, highway-heavy, and utility construction industry in New York. Founded in 1926 and celebrating its centennial in 2026, AGC NYS represents approximately 600 member companies dedicated to the ideals of skill, integrity, and responsibility.

MYTH: AGC NYS is just for the bigger contractors.

FACT: AGC NYS has members of all sizes and volumes performing all types of construction projects. Our members range in volume of construction work in place from $5M annually to over $1B, and everywhere in between.

MYTH: AGC NYS is just for public works contractors.

FACT: AGC NYS has members that perform both public and private construction projects. Our services and programs are designed for the betterment of the entire industry.

MYTH: AGC NYS is that upstate non-union group.

FACT: AGC NYS is a statewide association for general contractors and construction management firms regardless of their individual philosophy.

MYTH: AGC NYS is that downstate union group.

FACT: AGC NYS represents quality general contractors in all corners of New York State regardless of their individual labor philosophy.

MYTH: Dues are just another overhead cost I can't justify.

FACT: Membership is designed to save you more than you spend by helping you avoid costly legal, regulatory, and contract problems, and by giving you access to expertise, templates, and discounts you would otherwise pay for separately.

MYTH: All the programs are always in Albany.

FACT: Programs about issues that affect the entire industry are usually provided in different regions of the state. When appropriate, programs are presented in webinar form to avoid travel.

MYTH: I won't have time to devote to the membership and realize the value of joining.

FACT: The firm is the member, and all employees of the firm are eligible to attend any program or event. We encourage all key staff to be listed on our communications distribution lists. We also schedule New Member Orientations to familiarize staff with AGC and our resources.

MYTH: Government Affairs don't affect my business.

FACT: Every contractor is impacted by legislation involving rules, regulations, procurement, labor laws, prevailing wage, taxes, insurance, environmental regulations, workforce development, and infrastructure funding. AGC NYS works to ensure contractors have a voice in those decisions.

MYTH: I'm already a member of another organization that provides some of the same programming, I don't need to join AGC NYS.

FACT: While we encourage contractors to be active in their local group, no other association can give you the breadth and scope of programs, services, and information like AGC NYS. Together with AGC of America, no other association can match the knowledge, industry experience, or advocacy like AGC.

MYTH: We're doing fine without belonging to an association.

FACT: Many successful contractors say the same, until they face a labor dispute, regulatory issue, changing legislation, workforce shortage, or need industry connections. AGC NYS is there before you need it and when you need it most.

MYTH: Albany is going to do whatever it wants anyway. Joining AGC NYS won't make any difference.

FACT: The question isn't whether Albany will make decisions—it will. The question is whether the commercial construction industry has an organized, credible voice participating in that process. AGC NYS exists to provide that voice on behalf of its members. We have countless examples of direct impact.

MYTH: AGC NYS is a "good ole boys club" for steak roasts and golf outings.

FACT: While networking is an important component of AGC NYS, it is not our only focus. Our primary objective is to provide advocacy, education, training, safety and solutions for our members.

MYTH: AGC NYS is a non-profit charity and a luxury item.

FACT: AGC NYS is a not-for-profit trade association, looking out for our contractors' best interests in front of government, owners, designers, and anyone that impacts their businesses. New York is a complicated state to work in construction, members rely on AGC NYS to be an advocate and educator – not luxury. As members, the expertise of the AGC NYS staff becomes an arm of your staff. Call AGC First!
